

Draw Me a Star

(Eric Carle)

Draw me a star.
And the artist drew a star.

It was a good star.

Draw me the sun, said the star.
And the artist drew the sun.
It was a warm sun.

Draw me a tree, said the sun.
And the artist drew a tree.
It was a lovely tree.
Draw me a woman and a man.
And the artist drew a handsome couple.

Draw me a cat, said the dog.
Draw me a bird, said the cat.
Draw me a butterfly, said the bird.

Draw me a flower, said the butterfly.
And the artist drew red and yellow and blue and purple flowers.

Draw me the night, said the rainbow.
And the artist drew a dark night.

Draw me the moon, said the night.
And the artist drew a full moon.
Draw me a star, said the moon.

It was a good star.

Hold on to me, said the star to the artist.

Then, together, they traveled across the night sky.
